A. INTRODUCTION

The certification standards provide for a Prior Learning Assessment and Recognition (PLAR) process as an alternative path towards certification as a housing professional.

Candidates with seven or more years of practical housing management experience gained in a First Nations environment may take the Prior Learning Assessment and Recognition (PLAR) path to professional certification.

The PLAR path requires completion of a portfolio which will be reviewed by assessors who will look for evidence that the Candidate is competent in at least 80 percent of the FNHPA competencies.

Prior to December 31, 2022, Candidates who meet the portfolio evidence will be exempt from the Professional Examination. After this date, successful PLAR Candidates were required to take the Professional Examination. As of January 1, 2026, Candidates are no longer required to write the Exam. Instead Candidates will be required to submit 3 sponsorship letters.

This guide has been developed to assist those interested in pursuing the PLAR path.

PLAR affords individuals an opportunity to achieve credit toward certification based on past experience, professional development and education. The PLAR path requires Candidates to:

- Have a minimum of seven years of housing management experience in a First Nations Environment and provide evidence of the experience.
- Complete the Competency Self-Assessment and identify educational and work experience they may need to develop prior to submission of the PLAR Portfolio.
- Engage in further educational or experiential development, if necessary.
- When the targeted development is completed (if necessary), develop a PLAR Portfolio based on the information provided in the PLAR Portfolio Development Guide.
- Have the PLAR Portfolio demonstrate the equivalencies to the competency standards. This will include a listing of post-secondary and other qualifications, e.g. university degrees and professional qualifications and matching academic courses and work experiences to the required competencies.
- Provide letters from three sponsors.
- Request a PLAR Portfolio Assessment by submitting the required documentation and remitting the required fee to FNHPA.
- Upon notice of the PLAR Portfolio Assessment review, complete additional educational and work experience as identified, and resubmit with new evidence to demonstrate that competency deficiencies have been met.

When all requirements have been met and candidates are eligible for professional certification, the professional designation will be granted.

B. FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS ON PORTFOLIO ASSESSMENT

What is a Portfolio?

A portfolio is a record of your learning from educational, work and personal experience. It is developed by you to support your claim of competence and credit toward being accepted as a candidate member.

What is PLAR Portfolio Assessment?

Upon receipt, the FNHPA shall assign two (2) qualified and unbiased assessors to determine if your portfolio demonstrates the equivalent experience and education required to meet the required Competency Standards for acceptance as a candidate.

What should my PLAR Portfolio contain?

More detail follows in the sections that follow, however, a brief overview of items your portfolio must contain includes:

- A letter of introduction that briefly introduces you
- A copy of your completed Competency Self-Assessment
- A completed Evidence Grid for each of the competencies you are seeking advanced standing for
- Evidence to prove the competencies you are applying for, such as: descriptions of the activities you have undertaken at your place of employment; any courses, professional development, or self-directed study which you have taken; evidence from supervisors, clients, colleagues and others about your skills and abilities related to the competency for the advanced standing you are applying for.
- A resume that demonstrates the seven years of housing management experience.
- Related Job Descriptions
- Evidence of related education.
- Letters from three sponsors.

Portfolio assessments will be based on submitted materials only. Assessors will not consider portfolios which direct them to websites or public documents in order to access materials.

Who are the assessors?

Assessors are experienced professionals with a sound awareness of the competency standards and training in the assessment of portfolios. The assessors follow a guide and evaluate each submission according to the national competency standards.

What fees are required to submit a portfolio?

Your portfolio submission must be accompanied by a completed Request for Portfolio Assessment application form and payment by cheque, payable to the FNHPA in the amount of $650 plus applicable taxes.

How will I find out the results of my portfolio submission?

The results of your portfolio assessment will be communicated to you in writing once your portfolio has been reviewed. Portfolios are assessed once per month. Where competency deficiencies are noted, you will be required to obtain equivalent experience and/or education. Upon meeting the noted requirements you can resubmit your application and revised portfolio.

What can I do if I am unsatisfied with the decision made by the assessors?

Your portfolio is reviewed by two assessors. If the assessors disagree, it is sent to a third assessor for a final decision. If you are unsatisfied with the decision made by the assessors it is up to you to obtain the necessary evidence and resubmit your portfolio.

How many times can I make a submission?

Applicants pursuing PLAR will be allowed up to three portfolio submissions. Appeals for a fourth submission will be sent to the Education and Certification Committee for consideration.

C. PORTFOLIO PREPARATION

Self-assessment

All applicants who apply for PLAR must have a minimum of seven years of housing management experience which can be properly documented.

Preparing a portfolio takes a significant amount of time and effort. It stands to reason, then, that your first step should be a self-assessment of your competencies against those required for certification. Doing so may result in your finding that the PLAR approach to certification is not appropriate in your case or you are not ready to submit and require additional development. To do so, complete the Competency Self-Assessment and follow the instructions to complete your self-assessment.

Portfolio Approach

Your portfolio is reviewed by two assessors. If the assessors disagree, it is sent to a third assessor for a final decision. If you are unsatisfied with the decision made by the assessors it is up to you to obtain the necessary evidence and resubmit your portfolio.

- Take a look at your completed competency self-assessment and evidence grid to familiarize yourself with the competencies and knowledge you need to demonstrate to those who will assess your portfolio
- Identify the appropriate sources of evidence (transcripts, correspondence, certificates, work projects, etc.) you need to support your demonstrated competencies
- Gather the evidence
- Review your portfolio with a professional housing manager or a colleague – a second set of eyes is often prudent

14 TIPS TO HELP BUILD A PORTFOLIO

1. Approach building your portfolio as you would a resume and/or preparing for a comprehensive job application.
2. Make it look professional and organized. A well-organized portfolio will demonstrate your competencies more effectively.
3. Be thorough and accurate by providing the necessary background information.
4. Give numbers, show results, give facts; not opinions or impressions.
5. Be succinct, yet descriptive. Remember you must demonstrate your mastery of the competencies.
6. Avoid information that does not add to your claim.
7. In general, quality is better than quantity.
8. Show your mastery of the competencies – read the competencies to make sure your evidence demonstrates your mastery of them.
9. Try not to duplicate information unless it is necessary.
10. Use the Competency Self-Assessment and Evidence Grid as a tool to refer to supporting documentation which applies to more than one competency.
11. We recommend no more than three pages of evidence for each sub competency.
12. To keep your submission manageable and within the page limitations, you may want to provide a summary list, with a brief point form description for work related reports and projects that support your claim instead of including full documents – the Assessors will request more detail as necessary.
13. Providing evidence for education or professional development can be more concrete. For example, course descriptions, transcripts and program outlines can be useful as evidence.
14. Providing evidence for professional experience will require additional details to demonstrate your competence such as report summaries, job descriptions, and a summary of special projects, letters of reference and performance appraisals for example.

D. PORTFOLIO DEVELOPMENT

Organize your Portfolio

It is important that your portfolio be compiled in a professional and organized manner – this will help us ensure that the assessors are able to assess it promptly, fairly and objectively. Please follow the Portfolio Format Guidelines (see next section) to avoid unnecessary delays in processing your submission. Your goal should be an easy to follow format in which evidence is clearly labelled. And, of course, evidence should be directly mapped to the appropriate competency on the Competency Self-Assessment and Evidence Grid.

Submitting your Portfolio Checklist

- cover letter – summarize the goal of your submission and your involvement in housing management related to your PLAR submission
- the request for Portfolio Assessment form (Appendix A)
- portfolio with the Competency Self-assessment and Evidence Grid and related attachments to demonstrate academic courses and experiences to the competencies
- assessment fee
- resume to support the seven years of practical housing experience
- copies of transcripts
- detailed and current job description – if applicable
- additional supporting documentation and evidence
- letters from three sponsors

Portfolio Format Guidelines

- use a maximum of three pages of evidence per sub competency
- limit your portfolio to 60 pages or less
- place your portfolio in a word or PDF file with appropriate sections

Documents to Submit

- copy of your portfolio and cover letter in word or PDF files
- a Request for Portfolio Assessment and payment of the Assessment Fee of $650 plus applicable taxes

Supporting Documentation and Evidence

- is relevant to the competency you are requesting credit(s) for
- has met most of the criteria for each credit you are applying
- has not breached confidentiality of any sensitive information
- follows the guidelines of three or less pages of evidence per sub competency
- is laid out in a clear and consistent way
- is easy for assessors to understand and follow when assessing your portfolio

E. EVIDENCE FOR YOUR PORTFOLIO

Competence is being able to perform to the professional standard. Your evidence must demonstrate that you can apply this knowledge. The amount of evidence required will depend on a number of factors. Minimum would be two items of evidence per competency, provided this met the competency criteria outlined within the evidence grid for each competency. A single item of evidence is unlikely to demonstrate your competence in a particular area unless it is a course or a significant project, in these cases provide the course outline or project information. A number of items collected over a period of time may be required.

Submitting your Portfolio Checklist

Knowledge and application are critical to competent performance. You must be able to demonstrate that you have the appropriate supporting knowledge and understanding related to the competencies. The assessors may want to ask you some questions when you submit your portfolio to verify knowledge and understanding relating to the competencies which you are seeking. We will notify you if further information is required.

Authenticity of the evidence in your Portfolio

The assessors must be sure that all of the evidence is your own work. It may be necessary for the assessors to ask questions about the evidence that you have provided or to collect further evidence in order to confirm that the content of your portfolio is authentic. For multi-member project teams it is important to clearly identify the work that was produced by you.

Letter of Competency Verification

In some cases a Letter of Competency Verification would help confirm the authenticity of your evidence. Letters of Competency Verification can provide an indirect, authenticated account of your performance as it relates to the competencies. They may be collected from colleagues, supervisors, managers, customers or suppliers. The Letters of Competency Verification should:

- be specific to the competencies in question
- give a brief description of the circumstances and context of the observation
- give a brief description of the background and
- qualifications of the individual (Verifier) signing your Letter of Competency Verification and the relationship of the Verifier to the Candidate
- give a brief background of the observed activity
- identify aspects of the competencies demonstrated and how this relates to the competency being requested

Letters of Competency Verification may be used in a variety of ways in attesting to your performance. Sometimes they may simply authenticate a piece of work as having been produced by you. In other cases, they may provide an account of your performance in a project and include comment on it in relation to the competencies. It is important that verifiers are familiar with the competencies being assessed, and are able to comment authoritatively on your performance and competence in those areas.

Sufficient Evidence

Sufficient evidence has been achieved if

- all of the competencies have been correctly addressed;
- your evidence is authentic;
- your performance is consistent and can be demonstrated over a period of time;
- you can demonstrate that you have the relevant knowledge and understanding and can apply it to housing management in a First Nations environment; and
- you have included evidence for each competency sub-domain.

Types of Evidence

The best practice in the assessment of prior learning indicates that diverse sources of evidence should be used to support one's claim of competence.

KNOWLEDGE EVIDENCE	PERFORMANCE EVIDENCE	EVIDENCE OF PRIOR LEARNING
Gathered from any or all of the following sources: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Tests, reports, documents • Designs • Products • Projects or assignments • Testimonials from employers /teachers 	Gathered from any or all of the following sources: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • observation in workplace • workplace examples • Simulations • Skill tests • Job description • Performance appraisal • Testimonials 	Gathered from any or all of the following sources: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Certificates, diplomas • Transcripts • Course outlines and descriptions related to housing services management • Workshop and conference • Outlines or descriptions

The evidence you provide could be categorised into five different areas within the Competency Self-Assessment and Evidence Grid. Examples for each category are provided as a guideline only:

- Educational: transcripts, certificates, course descriptions
- Projects and Reports: course tests, projects, assignments or strategies
- Professional Experience: workplace products or assessments, job descriptions, work history, resume
- Letters of Verification
- Other (publications, etc.)
